The readers are introduced to this alternate world by means of time travel and engages themes of identity, moral value, audor and social structure. It does indeed answer what every reader wants to know in a Sci-Fi thriller, What if a person could alter the course of history by entering a parallel but ancient world and be in touch with much earlier versions of herself? This assumption would permit readers to explore and evaluate that possibility, to live and engage with the indegenous peoples, and return safely to a modern world.
